NORWAY AND VICINITY.
The Sweet Corn Planting Situation.
The Oxford Pomona Grange at its meeting at Bryant Pond overwhelmingly voted to insist upon getting 2½¢ per pound for sweet corn this year. The agitation for an increase in price has been on for some time. The packers have increased the price ½¢ per pound, making it 2½¢ per pound. The factory at Bryant Pond and Buckfield have secured their acreage.
The Portland Packing Co. have their full acreage at their 13 factories also the H. C. Baxter Co. for several factories and outside of some Oxford county factories have more acreage pledged than last season. This demand for increase is coming principally to the western section of the State and the cause has been warmly espoused by some members of the Norway Grange.
The H. F. Webb Co., say they cannot pay the price and shall close the factory here unless a sufficient amount of acreage is secured at 2½¢ per pound for operation, saying they can fill their orders at their other factories which are willing to sell at the established price. The farmers hold out and the factory not be run is will mean a loss of somewhere from $20,000 to $25,000 to this town.
We hope the corn raiser and the packer can get together and a big crop of corn be raised this season.

The annual apron sale and supper of the Norway W. O. P. U. will be held Feb. 16th. There will be an entertainment in the evening. Much charity work has been done by the Union this year and the treasury is getting low. It is hoped the public will generously patronize this sale and supper and thus help a good cause.

The 7th annual Calico Ball, given under the auspices of the Veranda club, will be held at Norway Opera House, Thursday evening, Feb. 17th. Music by Stearns' orchestra. Floor manager, John P. Guilman; aids, Alton Curtis, Wallace Sheen and Robert Bickford. All seats in the gallery reserved and on sale at Stone's, commencing Monday evening, Feb. 14th.

One of our smart old ladies thought she would get up in good season, Monday morning, and have her washing out as soon as some of the younger ones. She put her wash where it could be easily seen but somehow she did not look at the watch when she arose, but did the washing and then looked at the watch and it was two o'clock in the morning.

Harry Greenleaf finished buying apples last week. He has been buying from H. K. Whittemore of Auburn and shipping to the Liverpool market. He has shipped from Norway 16 carloads and four carloads from West Paris. 170 is the average number of barrels per car. This would make about $5000 worth of apples. The price paid was $2.00 per barrel. Mr. Greenleaf had 200 barrels of apples from his farm.

The good mare Kit, raised and owned by Harry F. Greenleaf, recently died at the age of 23 years. She was driven from Norway in her usual health. On arriving home she showed symptoms of colic and was doctored for it, but died the next day. This has been one of the best road horses in this section, and it has been a great loss to the family. She was driven from Northwest Norway to Norway, a distance of nearly nine miles, in 35 minutes. Kit was after H. M. Fiske's General Garfield, who was the sire of many good horses in this section.

NUMBER 5.

The Clerks' Ball.

16th Annual Given at the Opera House.
It was a beautiful evening, the evening of February first, when the great social event of the season took place at the Norway Opera House. This was the Clerks' 16th Annual ball, and was one of the best that the Clerks' Association has yet given.

The decorations, which is one of the principal features to many, especially to those who do not dance but occupy the gallery seats, were simply beautiful. The colors used were dainty pink, green and white, and made a handsome combination. Fred Cummings of Norway, did the decorating, assisted by the clerks.

The stage was trimmed overhead with long streamers of white fringed tissue paper and silver tinsel trimmings fastened to a large star in the center of the stage. Overhead in the foreground of the stage, tulleed hoops, with white stars in the center formed a handsome decoration, with two large hanging urns of flowers. On the stage where the orchestra was seated, names of orchids were placed along the front of the stage, in front of a fancy little rustic fence which separated the musicians from the dancers. Around the outside of the stage was a lattice work of alternating tinsel and crepe paper and in the two corners of the stage overhead, were white shields with the dates 1895, 1910, and in the center shield the word "Clerks."

Along the three sides of the hall, both above and below the gallery were long white streamers caught at intervals with bouquets of orchids, and along here were also placed silver shields trimmed with fringed tissue, containing the initials of the different firms in town.

The chandelier in the center of the hall was decorated with pink, white and green, and a large white frame work to which were centered streamers from the galleries, two from each supporter. Around the front of the gallery were streamers and bouquets of orchids. The electric lights were all shaded with pink and white crepe paper.

Tables were at the right and left of the stage where orange punch was served. Above the tables were white canopies made of streamers and fancy ornaments.

The seats in the gallery were filled long before the hour for dancing arrived and at about 8:45 Stearns' orchestra assisted by talent from Lewiston, Rumford and Paris started up the music for the grand march, which was led by the floor manager, G. L. Curtis, and wife followed by the aids—Carl W. Boynton and Fannie Boynton, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ashton, Carl Harmon and Lona Noble, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Huntington, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Brooks, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Smith. There were over 100 couples on the floor for the grand march.

The Clerks' ball is regarded as the event of the season and certainly this year it was a record breaker in many ways. There was the largest number present this year, and the large crowd in both gallery and floor together with the beautiful decorations and the fine music made this event long to be remembered by those present.

Punch was served during the evening by Ruth Akers, Mildred Curtis, Irene Locke and Philip Young.
Two officers to whom much credit is due for the success of the ball were present, Eugene O. Russell, vice president, and Elmer D. Tubbs, secretary and treasurer, Fred D. Smith; and the chairman of committees were: general committee, Stuart W. Goodwin; music, Lester Ashton; decorating, Carl W. Boynton; refreshments, Albert C. Fogg.

There were twenty dances on the order and it was far along in the early hours of the morning when the dancers left for home.

VOLUME XLII.

Browning Reading Club.
One of the most pleasant evenings which the Browning Reading Club has yet enjoyed, was spent at the home of Mrs. Lena Andrews on Paris street, last Monday evening, when twenty-seven members of the club were present.
At 8:45 a fine supper was served. Each one found her place at the table by means of a pretty hand painted note book which served a double purpose. Another very pretty feature of the dinner table, was the handsome hand painted check on which the supper was served, which was the work of the hostess.

Menu.
Cold Ham Mashed Potato Cold Pork Lobster Salmon Green Peas Spiced Jelly Salads Cheese Balls Whipped Cream and Caramel Pies Pineapple Ice Cream Assorted Cakes

Each lady represented the title of some book, and following the supper each guessed the book the others represented, and recorded them in their note books, which made a doubly interesting souvenir of the occasion.
This was one of the social events which will long be remembered by the club, as each one says: "It was the best time we have ever had."
The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. James Danforth next Monday evening.

Temperance Meeting.
The union temperance meeting at the Methodist church, Sunday afternoon, was well attended. Rev. Mr. Wentworth presided and gave the Scripture reading. Rev. Mr. Ward offered prayer. Rev. Mr. Wentworth was sick and not able to be present.
The singing by the fifth grade scholars conducted by Miss Washburn was especially good. Mr. Wentworth, Mr. Ward and Superintendent L. M. Felch made exhortations.

Mr. Felch said that as long as he is superintendent there shall be temperance teaching in the public schools. He believes the teachers can do much good by emphasizing the temperance truths at the right time and in the right way.
Remarks were also made by Charles F. Whitman, who is candidate for re-nomination for clerk of courts of Oxford county.

The store windows are now gay with valentines.
Josie Prescott has been confined to the house this week by illness.
Mrs. Etta G. Harnden has been very sick with congestion of the lungs.
Mrs. Herriek C. Davis suffered a severe paralytic shock early Sunday morning.
Mrs. Lizzie Richardson, widow of the late Columbus Richardson, has been allowed a pension of $12 a month.
Mr. and Mrs. William H. Motley of Auburn visited Mr. and Mrs. John Woodman at the Beal's Hotel the past week.

Lewis C. Allard of Freedom, N. H., returned to his home, Tuesday, after spending a week with his brother, Jesse Allard.
Mrs. F. L. Starbird fell down two flights of stairs last week, and while no bones were broken she was badly bruised and shaken up.
William A. Taylor of New York city has been here the past week on account of the serious illness of his brother, Frank Taylor.

C. E. Holt's health is much better this winter than for a long time. He is at his law office every day unless the weather is unusually severe.
Mrs. Etta Davis, who has been visiting her brother and family in West Sumner, has returned to her home on Summer street very much improved in health.
There will be a meeting of the Norway Base Ball association, Friday evening, Feb. 4th, at Cook's barber shop. All the members should attend, and all interested in having a ball game to play this season are invited to come.

W. A. Wentworth, formerly of Norway, is very sick with pneumonia at his mother's home in Haverhill, Mass. His wife, who is an excellent nurse in sickness, is doing her best to bring him through.
E. B. Hammond of Lewiston, who learned the tinmith trade of Wm. C. Leavitt Co., attended the Clerks' ball accompanied by a lady from that city. Mr. Hammond works at his trade for English & Ollivier and has a good job.

William H. Motley, recently in company with his brother-in-law, proprietors of the Andrews' House at South Paris, and for several years clerk at the Beal's Hotel, has accepted the position of day clerk at the New Elm House at Auburn.
The Bruinettes entertained Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cummings a week ago, Friday evening, instead of Mr. and Mrs. Cummings entertaining the Bruinettes, as was reported. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings were presented with 12 very handsome pieces of china, by the Bruinettes.

Robert L. Swift has been promoted to the New York office of the Automobile Refrigerator Co., of Hartford, Conn. He has been with this company for some time with headquarters at Hartford. He now has charge of their New York office and a considerable increase in salary. Swift is a graduate of the Maine University and is making good.

T. B. Choate and O. S. Piper of Meredith, N. H., were in town last Monday night and stopped at the Beal's Hotel. They came here to get medicine and be treated by a physician whose fame has spread over more than a single state. They were here three months ago, were treated and got medicine, hence their return. Mr. Choate has been a market man and provision dealer at Meredith and Mr. Piper a contractor and builder. They learned of the remarkable cure made by the Norway doctor through John F. Phillips, ex-deputy sheriff of Oxford county, located at Fryeburg. Mr. Phillips now lives at Alexandria, N. H. Messrs. Choate and Piper say they have received a positive benefit from the last three months' treatment and are to continue it for the next three months. The distance from Meredith to the Fair Grounds as shown by the auto last fall was 79-80 miles.

Jack, the dog belonging to Amasa Robbins, was run into by a sled recently and injured so badly that he died during the night.
The powerful comedy drama, "A Woman's Honor," will be given under the auspices of the Base Ball Association. This play is one of absorbing interest, strong, dramatically replete in humorous situations. No pains or expense will be spared to make the play a grand success. The production will be under the direction of W. H. Whedon.

Mrs. Winfield S. Cordwell.
Mrs. Nancy Flint Cordwell died at her home on Main street, Norway, Monday, Jan. 31st.

The immediate cause of her death was pneumonia, though she had been in bed for a number of years and confined to her room much of the time. A few years ago she was very ill and at that time Mr. and Mrs. John Sampson went to live with Mr. and Mrs. Cordwell. Mrs. Sampson, assisted by nurses when she could give, has given her the best of care. Her husband has given her untiring attention.

Mrs. Cordwell was born in Greenwood, Nov. 12, 1838, the daughter of Isaac and Sarah Young.
She attended school in Greenwood, and Oct. 25th, 1876, she married Winfield S. Cordwell. They lived in Greenwood till 1892, when they bought a home on Maple street. Her aunt, Mrs. W. McCausland, who died a few years ago, gave Mrs. Cordwell her residence on Main street, and Mr. and Mrs. Cordwell have since lived there.

The funeral was from her late residence, Thursday, Feb. 3d, Rev. M. C. Briggs' residence on Cottage street, where Mr. Taylor has lived for several years, Friday at 2 o'clock p. m. The burial will take place in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Frank R. Taylor.
Frank Rhodes Taylor died Thursday morning, Feb. 3, at the age of about 57 years, after a brief illness of several weeks.

Mr. Taylor was born in Pittsfield, Mass., and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor. He afterward moved to Brooklyn, N. Y. He lived at Andover most of the time for the past twenty-one years. He was never married. While here he has made his home at different places during the winter and has spent the summers for a number of years at his home by Lake Umbagog, N. H.

He did not engage in any active business. For several years he held the office of election clerk. In lodge associations he was an Elk, and in politics a Democrat.
The funeral will be held from Frank Briggs' residence on Cottage street, where Mr. Taylor has lived for several years, Friday at 2 o'clock p. m. The burial will take place in Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Oxford County Woman's Christian Temperance Union held an institute in G. A. R. hall, Norway, Feb. 2. Mrs. E. G. Stenkey, the county president, presided at the institute. Mrs. Susie Chapman, vice-president-at-large, presided in a most excellent manner.

The morning session opened with singing. Mrs. McWhorter of South Paris read a chapter from the Bible, and several ladies offered an earnest prayer for blessings on the work. Messages to the Omaha convention from Mrs. Katherine Lante Stevenson, Wanganui, New Zealand, and Miss Elma Grace Gowen, Buenos Ayres, Argentina, were read by Mrs. Barnes of Norway.

Mrs. Tubbs of Norway read an article on "Wearing the White Ribbon." Mrs. Ordway of South Paris read "The Social Settlement Work in Boston," and Mrs. McWhorter gave incidents of her personal relations with the settlement. A noontide prayer was offered by Mrs. Ordway, after which the ladies sat down to an excellent lunch of sandwiches, cakes, pastry and hot coffee prepared by the Norway ladies.

The afternoon session was most interesting and profitable. Work among the children was taken up and discussed by Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. McWhorter and others. Examples of patent medicine frauds were brought up by the president and earnestly discussed by all. The Fletcher of Norway gave a talk on the "Young Woman's Work," which was most interesting and suggestive of good practical work.

Ways and means of replenishing the treasury were discussed by Mrs. Clifford of South Paris and others.
The session closed with singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and the members separated feeling that a most profitable day had been greatly enjoyed by all.

SOUTH PARIS.
Campfire at G. A. R. Hall.
The campfire, Saturday, given by the Grand Army organizations was well attended in spite of the bad weather, a number being present from Norway, Oxford, Sumner and Bethel. The tables were set twice and filled each time. The afternoon exercises were held in New hall. Department Commander A. W. McCausland of the Department of Maine of Gardiner was the principal speaker. Remarks were also made by C. T. Wardwell of Oxford, A. M. True of Bethel and Hon. James S. Wright of South Paris. A. E. Morse read several selections and Frank Pike, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Eva Willis of Norway sang several selections. Mr. McCausland said in part:

"Children are not taught at home about the war. Four things every veteran should teach his children and grandchildren so that the records cannot be lost, namely: When he was mustered in; when he was mustered out; how many battles he was in; in what battles he participated. Few people ever know in what state the battle of Gettysburg was fought."

Discussing the high cost of living, Mr. McCausland said: "The high cost of living really means the cost of living high."
It costs the city of Gardiner some $80 per day to deliver groceries. The women don't like to be seen on the street carrying home a can of oil and a peck of potatoes. The men won't carry home so the goods have to be delivered and the people have to pay extra to have it done. Living is no so high now as it was at the close of the war, when sugar was 15 cents a pound against 5¢ cents now; kerosene was 50 cents white now it is 14 or 15 cents.

"Insurance companies made out a schedule of the time limit of the life of soldiers for the year 1910. Then it was changed to 1940; later to 1960, and it yet may be changed to a later date. People grow old only as they think of the past. Some are older at 50 than others at 80. It is the anticipation of times like today that keep you young. If the South had been allowed to secede the New England states might have followed their example, then another section might have seceded until the whole country might have been in small, unimportant countries."

In closing he told of the month of the war when the soldiers did not have their knapsacks or a change of clothing with them. Many times they went hungry and their best meals were only recalling the food left on the tables at home. At that time Mr. McCausland said he made a vow never to leave any food on the table again.

Maine.

Of Switzerland's highland scenery
You tell me marvelous tales;
Yet, Maine has scenery just as grand
Among her hills and dunes.
You tell me of the Blue Dunes,
Of "Castle-bordered Rhine."
Are they more beautiful, I pray,
Than ours that flow through pine?
Why talk of Lake Killarney,
Magdore or Como,
As picturesquely, I know.
You tell me of the redwoods
On Pacific's coastal plain;
But they are not one bit more grand
Than pine trees of old Maine.
You tell me of the snowy Alpine heights,
The Edelweiss to gaze;
Tell me, is it sweeter here
Than the Rhododendron of Maine?
Niagara's foaming cataract
Leaps down with thunderous roar;
Have you heard old ocean roar?
Upon our rock-bound shore?
Two thousand miles of sea coast,
From our coast guard bent;
A vast and mighty pleasure ground
To us from God is lent.
I read in some of the old books
Of the Emerald Isle sublime;
Why, Maine has hundreds just as green,
And true her old shore line.
Italian skies and sunsets
In coloring grow quite tame
When the sun goes down in Maine.
You cross the sea to distant lands,
And old gray farmhouses dower in Maine
Is good enough for me.
And so you travel north and south,
You travel east and west,
In search of beauties rich and rare,
While those at home are best.

The Snow Bird.
The ground was all covered with snow one day,
And two little children were busy at play.
When a snow bird came flying by on a tree,
And went merrily singing his chickadee-chickadee.
Chorus.
Chickadee, chickadee,
Chickadee, chickadee,
He had not been singing that tune very long,
Ere Emily heard him, so loud was his song;
"Oh, sister! Look out of the window!" said she,
Here's a dear little bird singing his chickadee-chickadee.
"Poor fellow, he walks in the snow and the sleet,
And neither stockings or shoes on his feet;
A pity him so, for how cold he must be,
And yet he keeps singing his chickadee-dee."
And when she saw him, she knew him, I know,
I would not stay out in the cold and the snow,
I wonder what makes him so full of his glee,
He's at the time singing that chickadee-dee.
"O, mother! Do get him some stockings and shoes,
And a coat and a hat, if he choose;
I wish he'd come into the parlor and see How warm we would make him, poor chickadee."
The bird had flown down for some crumbs of bread,
And heard every word little Emily said;
"What a figure I'd make in that dress," thought he,
And he laughed as he warbled his chickadee-dee.
"I am grateful," he said, "for the wish you express,
But I've no occasion for such a fine dress!
I'd rather rain with my little all as I see
Than to hobble about, singing chickadee-dee."
"There is one, my dear child, though I cannot tell who,
Has clothed me already, and warm enough,
Good morning! Oh, who are so happy as we?"
And away he went, singing his chickadee-dee.

Organization of Seed Improvement Association
By Maine Farmers.
The proposed Seed Improvement Association for Maine was organized in the city of Waterville, Jan. 25, with a charter membership of about 100, 50 of which were present and the remainder not being able to attend the meeting wrote, asking to be enrolled as charter members.

Following a brief outline of the proposed work, a committee consisting of Prof. E. F. Hitchings of Waterville, E. A. Rogers of Brunswick and Hon. C. L. Jones of Waterville, were appointed by temporary chairman W. G. Hutton as a nominating committee. The following officers were nominated and duly elected: Pres.—W. G. Hutton, Waterville. V. Pres.—John F. Pease, Cornish. Sec.—S. S. Merrill, Augusta. Treas.—Charles White, Bowdoinham. Res.—Charles White, Bowdoinham. A. P. Hovey, Palmyra; George W. Moore, Presque Isle; E. E. Addison, Waterville; Farmington; C. S. McIntire, East Waterford.

After a discussion by the members upon what seed it was thought advisable to take up for improvement, a canvass of the members as to the crop each was most interested in was made and it was decided that corn, oats and potatoes were the principal crops to be improved.

Instances as to what this work might mean to the State were cited by Commissioner A. W. Gilman whose experience was that plots of potatoes planted with selected seed yielded one-third more than those planted with unselected seed. E. A. Rogers stated that he got an increase of 100 bushels of potatoes more per acre from an acre of land planted with selected seed which he had obtained by marking the best hills and keeping the tubers of those for seed.

The first year of the work will be principally the location of the best varieties of seed in the state and the localities to which they are best adapted. Careful field selection among the best varieties will afford a better foundation upon which to work with opportunities for breeding by those who desire it.

The legislature of Maine has appropriated a sum of money for the improvement of the crops in Maine and instructed the Department of Agriculture to take up the work. The Department has the co-operation of representatives of the Agricultural College Experiment Station and E. A. Standford of the U. S. Department and in pursuance of this work has engaged the services of A. S. Cook who will represent the Department in the field.

Details of the meeting and the Constitution and By-laws will be forwarded to persons interested in crop improvement upon application to the Secretary, Leon S. Merrill, Augusta, or A. S. Cook, Assistant Dairy Instructor, in charge of field work, Seed Improvement Division.

Charles Hamilton has presented to the Hannibal Hamilton school of Bangor, formerly the Union Square grammar school, a large portrait of his father, Hannibal Hamilton. The portrait has been hung in the school building, lower corridor of the school building. The school was recently named in honor of former Vice-President Hamilton by order of the city government and with the approval of the school board. It was at the same time the Palm Street grammar school was named Abraham Lincoln school.

Enjoy Fresh Air Wisely.

Common sense ought to be used in the taking of fresh air just as much as in taking food to sustain life. No wise person gorges himself at irregular intervals and calls that proper eating. Nor does he take all his food at once, and then starve the rest of the day. The stomach will not endure such treatment without exacting reprisals that cause any amount of physical suffering.

Fresh air is just as essential as food. We cannot live any great length of time without it unless we are willing to take the illness that constitutes the consequences.

If proof of the carelessness of humanity in the matter of fresh air is needed, all that is necessary is to go into some home where you see the inmates sitting about in listless fashion, often complaining they do not feel as well as they should, that their heads ache, and the like.

Analyze conditions. They are the forerunners of results. You will find, almost always, that the house in question is poorly ventilated, that no attention is paid to seeing that there is a judicious supply of air in the sleeping rooms, that at night when the family gathers in the living-room, everyone is permitted to breathe the same air over and over again, all impregnated with unpleasant germs that the bodies have thrown off through the breath.

Did you ever notice how stuffy the day coach of a railroad train becomes, where she stops are few and the trainmen do not give the ventilators much attention? It is because the passengers are breathing the air all the time that the stuffy feeling is felt.

All the bad air in the home is so unnecessary it seems a pity anyone should endure it. The secret is, be certain that fresh air in moderation is admitted at regular intervals. If your home is not well ventilated be certain you will feel the cold much more all winter. This does not mean that a cold and draughty house is healthy. That is the other and most unwise extreme.

If you happen to have a hot-air furnace watch the regulator in the cold-air box. That has much, in winter, to do with the condition of the air, because, if you give the air that comes through the furnace pipes a chance to be pure it means that all the warm air that comes up through the registers will be healthy.

At night, let plenty of air come into the bedroom—direct if possible. If you keep the bedclothes over you, an air current will never bother, and how much better you will feel in the morning, after inhaling pure air all night. This is the reason why persons with weak lungs are advised to sleep out-of-doors. They cannot get enough air in the bedroom to build up the defective tissues as rapidly as desired, and, again, the chances are that the person who sleeps in a bedroom will, if sick, be defrauded out of his share of fresh air by some well-meaning but ignorant member of the family who worships at the shrine of the too much air bugaboo.

The reason we catch cold by sitting where fresh air is freely admitted is that we are not protected against the exposure. In the bed we have the best protection, and we do not need to worry about too much air as long as we are well protected.

If it is uncomfortable for a person to sleep in a well aired room, cultivate the hot-water bottle at the feet. Better a little artificial heat than foul air. Every day and all day see that the air in the room in which you are is changed often enough to prevent its becoming poisonous. Fresh air, like medicine, if taken judiciously, is our best friend.

Arthur B. Forbes of South Paris was elected president of the 47th annual meeting of the Maine Press Association that met at Portland last week.

Coughs and Colds.
Catarrh, Croup and Sore Throat Cured by Hyomei.
The germs of catarrh cannot exist in the same atmosphere with antiseptic Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mei). Breathe Hyomei and relief from catarrh, coughs, sore throat or cold will come in two minutes.
Breathe Hyomei and that stomach straining hawking in the morning will quickly disappear.
Breathe Hyomei and kill the catarrh germs; heal the inflamed membrane; stop the discharge of mucus and prevent crusts from forming in the nose.
Breathe Hyomei for a few minutes each day and you are rid yourself of contemptible catarrh.
Breathe Hyomei—give it a faithful trial and then, if you are not satisfied, you can have your money back.
Hyomei is sold by druggists everywhere and by Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Noyes drug store. A complete outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of a hard rubber inhaler that will last for years, one bottle of Hyomei and full instructions for its use. If a second bottle of Hyomei is needed you can get an extra bottle of Hyomei inhalant for 50 cents.

Often The Kidneys Are

Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys most, because they do most and
should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order,
you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ
seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr.
Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best.

Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle
by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you
how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper
when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

In Southern California.

Lakeside, San Diego, Co., Calif., Jan.
28, 1910.

EDITOR ADVERTISER:I am spending a quiet Sabbath upon a lovely winter in Southern California. I am stopping for a few days with friends whose former homes were in South Bridgton, who are here for their health and are living in a tent house. Many orange and lemon groves with their gaudy fruits and peach, apricot and olive orchards are scattered over the narrow valley while just beyond the foothills, rising to a height of 1500 to 2000 feet and studded to their very top with great boulders are all around. But as I was to give a short sketch of my trip from South Dakota to Colorado I will leave a description of my present visit to San Diego
for another letter.

On Saturday morning Dec. 3, in company with Mr. H. A. Hubert and his son Henry, formerly of West Fryeburg, I left Bailey, South Dakota,
in a raging snow storm and started on my journey of almost 3200 miles to Los Angeles, Calif.

At Sioux City Iowa, owing to the storm we missed our train and had to lay over for six hours. We arrived at Concord Bluffs, Iowa, near midnight, where we stayed over night at the Hotel Depot.
The next morning with the storm still raging we boarded a tourist sleeper from St. Paul and thought our troubles all over as this car was to take us to La.
without a change of cars. As we continued on down the Missouri river
towards Kansas City, Mo., the snow changed to rain or sleet and every twig
and tree was covered with glistening ice.
We arrived at Kansas City on Sunday afternoon and our train was due to leave at about 6 p. m. but did not leave until three hours later. Just before starting we were informed that owing to some defect in the heating arrangements of our car we would have to change to another tourist car, so we had a lively time changing ourselves and our baggage
to the new car that had been provided.

The tourist car is built along the same lines as the pulman, but cheaper and the charge made only one half that of the pulman. In our car there were 16 lower double bunks, and the same number of uppers. In one end was a large lounge where baking can be done, coffee made etc. Monday morning we found us in Western Kansas. It was cold and windy and two or three inches of snow upon the ground at Trinidad, Col. We saw some fine mountain scenery as we slowly went through the monster engine, climbed the steep grades through the mountain passes of that section.

The railroad follows closely the old Santa Fe trail over which the forty-niners traveled for many years in their rush for the golden treasures of California. Here banded together for protection against the savage Red man, large caravans toiled for months across the plains, over the mountains and through the mountain passes of Kansas, New Mexico,
Arizona and at last down into the valleys
of California, where the glittering gold was found. It must have been men of iron nerve and Yankee grit who first blazed the way from St. Louis to the gold fields of California, men like Fremont and Kit Carson, who by their energy and dash laid the foundation that brought this vast empire under the sway of the stars and stripes.

About midnight Monday night we passed through Albuquerque, N. M., a city of about 10,000 population, and all day long we traveled over the plains of New Mexico and Arizona. But for the winter rains this vast t. of country would be one vast desert waste. The land is practically all covered with sage brush, a small stunted specie of pine, called the Pinon pine, covers many thousands of acres, while on the higher elevations there are some fine groves of large hard pine trees. At Williams, Arizona, there is a very large saw mill located. The logs are hauled from the near by mountains by a private railroad owned by the lumber company.

At Williams the Santa Fe has built a branch line to the famous Grand Canyon of the Colorado in Arizona, said to be the greatest natural wonder of the world. On my trip east from Colorado, five years ago, I visited this wonderful gorge, 200 miles long, 13 miles wide and 1 mile deep, and at an extra expense of $15 saw by far the most wonderful sight that I have ever seen. The valleys where water can be stored or pumped the soil is wonderfully productive, but a very large proportion of the land can never be reached by irrigator and must always remain a grazing country, and millions of cattle, horses and sheep
range over the country, owned and controlled by those who have been shrewd enough to gain and control the water rights.

On Tuesday morning our car was switched off the Santa Fe at Barstow, Calif., and was run amongst the orange trees and flowers. We arrived at Los Angeles about noon, in a hard shower,
and went at once to that popular hotel,
the Natick House, in one of their fine business class buildings. The weather of the Northland to that of the balmy coast country was a pleasant one.
We had a very pleasant trip all the way through. Our car was made up of people, mostly ladies, from Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, and were a jolly, lively crowd.

In my next I will write about Los Angeles, Long Beach and other places, and people that I have visited. In a week or ten days I expect to visit San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, San Jose
and around Bakersfield, where I spent two winters, and in about a month start on my return trip to South Dakota, visiting on the way at Albuquerque, N. M., and in Audubon and Cass Co., Iowa.

Yours truly, JOSEPH ANDREWS.

The Savory Sausage.

The sausage dates back to the year
397. It has been asserted that the Greeks in the days of Homer, made savored sausages, but this prehistoric mixture had nothing in common with our modern product.

The ancient so-called sausage was composed of the same materials which enter into the making of the modern sausage.
The French market and the blood pudding of the French-Canadian. The ancient sausage was developed in the stomachs of the goats.

Until the tenth century did the sausage made of hashed pork become known. It was in or near the year 1500 that, thanks to the introduction into Germany of cinnamon and saffron, the sausages of Frankfurt and Strassburg acquired a universal reputation.

Basket Ball.

In a whirlwind game from start to finish Hebron defeated the Bates Sophomores 57-24. The game was a spectacular one in which fast passing and accurate long shots figured. The Hebron boys were greatly out-weighted but had it all over the college five in shooting.
While from the score it would seem that the game was one-sided, such was not the case, for the Bates men never let up in the forty minutes of play and were in fine condition, fighting against every point.

At the meeting of Oxford County
Dairy Testing association, Tuesday, Feb.
2, at 10 a. m., at East Sumner Grange hall, T. E. H. Richardson and C. H. Richardson discussed their herd records. A. S. Cook, Assistant Dairy Instructor, in charge of field work seed improvement division, gave a talk on "Seed Improvement Work at Maine." Assistant Dairy Instructor Redman was present.

It is easily possible to tell the difference between the fresh eggs and a cold storage egg without breaking the shell.
Drop the eggs into a vessel of water containing ten per cent. salt solution, the fresh eggs immediately sink to the bottom and the refrigerator ones float on the surface.

Sanborn Attends Maine Press Association

ended the 47th annual meeting of the Maine Press Association Friday afternoon, January 26th and 27th. The meeting was held in the main room of the hotel. The attendance was the largest in the history of the association. The officers of the association are: President, H. Jones, of Rockland; Vice President, J. P. Gilley, of Rockland; Secretary, Mr. Woods has been elected; Treasurer, Mr. Gilley. The association serves us. The attendance was not large, less than the previous year. We were there for the double of taking in the meeting and the doctor. We paid more attention to what the doctor told us than to the business of the association. At the Springvale was elected as officers of the Association and in the dues from the members. E. Forbes of the Oxford was chosen president. Mr. Jones has been a consistent member for many years. He is going on the excursion to Europe. E. C. Fowler of Bethel is going on the excursion to Europe. He probably take place in the summer.

Francis, the smooth talking, and representative of the Maine Press Association, through the courtesy of Mr. Moore of Keith's theatre, the members of the Press Association and their friends to a matinee performance. Everybody went. J. P. Gilley of Rockland, accompanied by two nurses. The play was "The Great Divide", and the play was a great surprise to us as we had not seen it. It follows out the story of an underground tunnel to the sea. We should think, nicely. Mr. Moore invited the Press Association to take a peep behind the scenes. The scenes were changing, interesting, especially to Louis and two children and some of the people, including ourselves. Francis called at the hotel and each member of the Press Association with a small paper box tied with a string. On the box was the name of the party for whom the box was intended. Mr. Francis requested that the boxes be opened and the contents returned home. As we remained in the city for a couple of days we could not wait that time, so we opened it up and found a card, "William R. Francis, Advertising Co." and a card in tissue paper was what we were three monkeys or representing "Hear no Evil, See no Evil, Say no Evil." A strict rule of this wouldn't give the press much to show on either side of the Maine editors and very curious, we guess it was safe to the press with thanks. Mr. Francis invited all of us to go with him on an eight days' trip on the coast of Norway, on the 30th day. He said that he would take good care of us. We were made sea-sick by the expense of a trip is $65. There are a few more berths to be had. It is no doubt that he will get a number to go with him. The members have been made the past few days of the Evening Express, and Mr. W. H. Dow very thoughtfully inspected the members of the Association. The writer accepted and went to the hotel. We went from the hotel to the attic and asked lots of questions of Mr. Dow. Surely they have not and are prepared to handle out of news that comes to them. As a feeling of relief, we think we have the trouble and bother of so business. For the past 20 years it has been making changes and news from a very small base has grown to have the largest of any daily paper in the present edition being about 100,000 copies per day.

ally it was a toss up with us to go to the hospital and sub-operation or to visit a specialist. The latter course was chosen and was adopted. Four specialists who analyzed the condition of the stomach and treated it, more or less relief, though he said the cure has not yet been made. The chronic condition of the stomach will take some months to cure.

alled on H. & E. Sanborn on the 26th. We found them engaged in discussing some difficult problem. The Sanborn boys went from Norway, about a year or so ago. They have been making the Oxford boat hook, saws and pikes, and are now on smaller household devices, such as openers, bag lifters and milk can openers.

Impossible to be Well

It is impossible to be well, simply impossible, if the bowels are constipated. You must pay attention to the laws of nature, or suffer the consequences. Undigested material, waste products, poisonous substances, must be removed from the body at least once each day, or there will be trouble. A sluggish liver is responsible for an immense amount of suffering and serious disease. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Pills. He knows why they act directly on the liver. Trust him. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Encounter with Mad Bull.
A nearly fatal encounter with a mad bull occurred to our townsman, Frank Shaw, on Wednesday of last week by a sharp pitchfork and soon they were out of the reach of the mad beast. Then a loaded rifle was brought from the house and five or six shots in various parts of the body partially tamed the belligerent animal, the last shot in the head proving fatal.

Kimball C. Attwood, a native of Buckfield, went down the Manatee river in Florida and bought a wilderness or bog of palmettoes, and out of it he has produced the most wonderful grape fruit farm in this country. 25,000 trees are growing on it. The farm contains 250 acres. He bought this land in 1896, cleared it and planted the trees. Thousands of dollars were judiciously expended in advertising and the delicacy of the Attwood grape fruit became extensively known. The demand grew steadily and this year the entire output of upward 100,000 boxes are necessary to fill the demand. This farm has an extended frontage on the Manatee river which affords excellent shipping facilities, and his packing houses are provided on a generous scale. Postmaster Charles A. Lang has received notice from the Department at Washington that commencing Feb. 15, rural mail carriers will not be required to collect loose coins from rural mail boxes. Patrons should enclose coins in an envelope, wrap them securely in a piece of paper, or deposit them in a coin-holding receptacle, so they can be easily and quickly taken from boxes, and carriers will be required to fill such coins and where accompanied by mail for dispatch attach the requisite stamps. This announcement is made in view of the extent to which the practice of placing loose coin in boxes of rural patrons has grown, and the delay in the delivery and collection of mail and the hardships imposed on rural carriers incident thereto.

Another Good Sermon.

Rev. Mr. Baldwin of Portland, preached another good sermon at the Congregational church on Sunday last. He was preached from the 20th Chap. of John, 15th verse, and took as his text the words of Christ to his disciple Peter, saying: "Peter, son of Simon, lovest thou me more than these?" and Peter replying, said: "Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love you."

Thrice did Christ ask the same question, and thrice did Peter give an apparently evasive answer. Mr. Baldwin analyzed the question of Christ and sought to determine His motive in repeating it, and in his analysis brought out the true meaning of the word love. It comes from a Greek verb, and does not mean merely friendship in sense of good fellowship, but a close, enduring, and deep seated attachment that will remain constant even through privations and rebuff. Mr. Baldwin applied the lesson to be learned from his text, in a skillful way, to the living of our daily lives.

Mr. Baldwin's sermon was a direct appeal to all to get away from bigotry, sectarianism and narrow mindedness, and take a broader and brighter view of life, thereby helping others to enjoy the good things in life. Mr. Baldwin, a young man denies his mother to his college friend, saying, when asked who he was talking to, "It is only my wash-bowling." The other young man has said to his mother, "I am a medal of honor." "One moment, Mr. President. All I own or have in this world I owe to my mother. It is she who deserves the medal." And taking it from the President's hand, he went down the breast of the old mother. The mother who had worked and deprived herself of much to send her boy through college.
